VOCABULARY AND PRONUNCIATION

คำศัพท์และการออกเสียง

INSTRUCTOR NOTE: Check to see if students brought their notebooks to class. If they did you can give them a cover sheet for the front of their notebook. Remind them to bring a dictionary to class every week. Ask them to pronounce the words listed here three times. Students should write the Thai equivalent in the space provided. You can ask individual students to pronounce some of the words listed here. Correct pronunciation can be tested by using a cell phone with a speech recognition app.

CONVERSATION GAME

เกมบทสนทนา

INSTRUCTOR NOTE: Pick one of the situations listed below then ask individual students to stand up and respond using one of the conversation examples above. The student should substitute names or nicknames based on the situation.

1. You see one of your teachers (a man) at Tesco Lotus.
2. You see your friend's father working on his car at 14:00.
3. You see your friend's mother at the bus station at 8:00.
4. You see one of your teachers (an unmarried woman) at Amazon using her computer.
5. You see one of your friends at the park.

INSTRUCTOR NOTE: Ask two students to stand up and read the following dialog. One student should play the role of Pooky and the other should play the role of Miss Lee. Encourage them to add facial expressions and emotions that match the sentences they are speaking.

Pooky

Miss Lee

1. Hello Miss Lee. Hi Pooky. How are you?
2. What are you working on? I'm writing some email to my friend in Hong Kong.
3. Did you go to Hong Kong? Yes, I used to teach school there. It was fun.
4. Do you like Hong Kong more than Thailand? I liked Hong Kong, but I love Thailand.
5. How about you? Have you ever been to Hong Kong?
No, I've never been there but I would like to go. I want to go shopping there.
6. Yes, Hong Kong is great for shopping. I hope you can go there someday.
Miss Lee, may I ask you a question? Sure, Pooky.
7. Do you have a husband? No, I don't.
8. Do you have a boyfriend? I used to have a boyfriend but not anymore.
9. Why? It's hard to find a good boyfriend when you travel a lot. How about you? Do you have a boyfriend?
10. Not really. I like a boy in another class, but he doesn't talk to me. Don't worry. I'm sure you'll find a good boy who really likes you someday.
11. I hope so. I need to finish my email. Let me talk to you later.
12. OK. Have a nice day. You, too!
